Drupal - own up, you had enough of its flaws - denzil_correa ====== ColinWright I see a lot of comments bashing this, and a lot of people defending it. Does anybody have an explanation why this got downvoted to the bottom of the list? I've submitted it twice, getting no upvotes on each time. In fact, yesterday the first time, it didn't even get upvoted. Hmmmm? The invention is generally in the field of luminescence. It is more specifically in the field of chemiluminescence of noble metal intermetallics. There are many classes of luminescence. An important class is chemiluminescence. In this type of emission, a stable compound, generally a metal or metalloid, is excited by an external energy source to produce an electronically excited metastable species
